DETAILED ACTION

Specification

1. Applicant is reminded of the proper language and format for an abstract of the disclosure.

The abstract should be in narrative form and generally limited to a single paragraph on a separate sheet within the range of 50 to 150 words. It is important that the abstract not exceed 150 words in length since the space provided for the abstract on the computer tape used by the printer is limited. The form and legal phraseology often used in patent claims, such as "means" and "said," should be avoided. The abstract should describe the disclosure sufficiently to assist readers in deciding whether there is a need for consulting the full patent text for details.

The language should be clear and concise and should not repeat information given in the title. It should avoid using phrases which can be implied, such as, "The disclosure concerns," "The disclosure defined by this invention," "The disclosure describes," etc.

2. The abstract of the disclosure is objected to because the abstract should be limited in a single paragraph. Correction is required. See MPEP § 608.01(b).
3. The disclosure is objected to because of the following informalities: page 1, line 19, "numeral 103" should be --numeral 104--.

Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

4. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

5. Claim 22-23 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

With respect to claim 22, step of "while transmitting the measurement data points for the zone, measuring input response characteristics for a successive zone with the field instrument." This step is unclear, since this limitation is bounded in the meaning either, such repeating step of measuring input response characteristics for a zone with the field instrument (already mentioned in the second step) to assure the response characteristics for a zone completely transmitted which corresponding to the limitations of claim 23 (successively transmitting the data measurement points for all the plurality of zones to the host application), Or meaning the measuring input response characteristics for each zone of the plurality of zones. Correction is required to clarify the claim invention.

Allowable Subject Matter

6. The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter:

Claims 8-21, and 24-25 are indicates allowable over the prior art of record.

Conclusion

7. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
